Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering Refresher

Course Aim

The aim of the course is to remind your employees who have previously achieved the Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering of their responsibilities towards food safety.

It's ideal for anyone who needs to learn of any changes in legislation since they achieved their qualification and who also want to ensure that their knowledge is up to date.

Who Should Attend

This course is ideal for anyone who has previously achieved the Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering and who needs to renew their qualification.

It is recommended that this course be undertaken three years after the original one day course.

Course Length

Half day

Entry Requirements

Candidates must provide evidence of having previously undertaken and passed a Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering, which has been awarded by any QCA/Ofqual accredited awarding body.

It is also recommended that candidates have a minimum of Level 1 in Literacy/English or equivalent to undertake this qualification. Candidates should be aged 14 or above.

Accredited By

This course is accredited by Highfield Qualifications and sits on the Regulated Qualifications Framework (RQF).

This course is also available as a non-accredited option.

The Content

This course provides a review of the topics covered in the Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering including:

- A review of food safety law, enforcement and penalties including recent changes in legislation and best practices
- The legal responsibilities of food handlers and food business operators.
- The different food safety hazards.
- Review of effective personal hygiene practices.
- Safe food handling practices and procedures.
- Importance of temperature controls when storing, preparing, cooking, chilling, reheating, holding serving and transporting food.
- Product safety including safe food handling and storage.
