Course Aim

The aim of this three day course is to provide your supervisors and managers with a comprehensive understanding of food safety. It will help them to examine everyone's different roles in establishing and maintaining high standards within their workplace.

The course is designed to provide your employees with a detailed knowledge of food safety principles and practice through identifying potential hazards. In gaining this knowledge, supervisors and food managers will be able to develop and implement food safety systems appropriate to their workplace.

Who Should Attend

This in-depth course is intended principally for those employees who are responsible for managing people and is ideal for anyone who has a responsibility for your HACCP system. This qualification is also recommended for any food business that is striving to achieve a 5 star food hygiene rating.

For those who own or manage a small catering business, this course will help them to understand the Safer Food Better Business pack provided by the Food Standards Agency (FSA).

In addition, if you require supervisors or managers to teach basic food safety skills to other members of your team, providing they have the suitable experience and a teaching qualification such as the Level 3 Award in Delivering Training or the Level 3 Award in Education and Training, this course enables them to deliver in-house training.

"I really enjoyed my Food Safety Level 3 course. All training is presented in an easy and funny way. I get to understand so much more about food safety. All possessed knowledge I will use in my work place. That will improve all the sectors in the factory. Thank you very much Envesca Ltd."

Kaludia DaCosta | Production Team Manager
Nature Delivered Ltd (t/a Graze)

"I found the course really useful and worthwhile. It is good to have more knowledge about how and why you do things. I've learnt not to assume, always check and then record the findings. I thought both the slide presentation and the verbal teaching was of an exceptionally high standard. I would definitely recommend this course to anyone with a supervisory role within the food industry."
